

DIGGING UP SHAKESPEARE

En del af CPH STAGE 2013

Af Why Not Theatre Company

URPREMIERE

05-06-2013 - 09-06-2013

Skuespil og dramatik -
Moderne dramatik

Spillested

Huset i Magstræde,
Underkanten, København,

Arrangør

CPH STAGE

Medarrangør

Why Not Theatre Company

Producent

Why Not Theatre Company

Dramatiker

Barry McKenna og William

© Why Not Theatre

MEDVIRKENDE

Barry McKenna, Andrew Jeffers, Sue Hansen-Styles

Madeleine Entwistle, renowned lecturer and archeologist, hotfoot back from Richard III's grave site (it is she who discovered the hump), is visiting Copenhagen to breathe life back into Shakespeare.

Her troupe of stalwart thespians are to perform scenes from the Bard's most beloved plays and render a Sonnet or two for good measure (for measure).

However, at the eleventh hour, Maddie gets word that her actors have been seriously injured while rehearsing the final scene of Hamlet.

What can she do?

She must enlist the help of two most unlikely and unwilling volunteers.....

An entertaining medley of Shakespeare's scenes and sonnets.

OBS: Forestilling spilles på engelsk

INFO

Spilleperiode: 5. juni 2013 - 9. juni 2013 - Urpremiere

Antal opførelser: 10

Målgruppe: Ung- og voksenforestilling - Aldersgruppe fra 13 år

Varighed: 1 time og 10 minutter uden pause

Sæson: 2012-13

Type: Stationær produktion. Eget stationært arrangement