A man and his big frog are looking for a new place to live. But where do they come from? Maybe from another planet? Kasu makakka tzacka maluna? That's what we hear when the man sings and speaks.

He builds a great house and his friend, the frog comforts him when something does not work out right, when he hurts himself or when he is sad. Than at once there are many little frogs; the big frog was a frog-mamma!

These are Cool Frogs, sometimes they are quite cheeky though. The man tells them bed time stories, explains them how a real orchestra works. Everything would be fine if there was no the fly. She lives in the house too and is very annoying. One day everything bearks down.
