Performed in English

A Christmas adventure begins when two children take off in order to find help for their mother who is about to give birth. As the snow begins to fall, they lose their way and find themselves on a mythical and magical journey where fairytale mixes with reality. A poetical and thought provoking show performed by one actor and a cellist.

"Giacomo Ravicchio's world has a magic I cannot resist" (...) "One leaves the theater with the feeling that one has experienced something extraordinary. Something big. Something that has a hint of the divine about it, hiding itself deep inside the shows magical social realism. Something that moves one to tears." Teateravisen, December 2014
