

URANUS

Af Den Danske Scenekunstskole

URPREMIERE

15-03-2019 - 23-03-2019

Dans og ballet -
Danseperformance

Spillested
Den Danske Scenekunstskole
- København (PDLA), Sal 1

Arrangør
Den Danske Scenekunstskole

Producent
Den Danske Scenekunstskole

Komponist
Fiedel

Lysdesigner
Turpin Napoleon Djurhuus

MEDVIRKENDE

Thjerza Balaj, Angela Bundalovic, Paolo de Venecia Gile, Sara Grotenfelt, Andreas Haglund, Antonia Harke, Vivian Pöldoja, Kalliopi Siganou, Tobias Sköld, Evita Tsakalaki, Amalie Bergstein, Ágnes Grélinger, Julia Müllner, Jon Andreas Hoff, Camilla Lind

Uranus is the 7th planet of our solar system. Its axis differs from other planets as it rotates almost entirely on its side. Uranus was also a gay rave in Stockholm. In astrology, it is the planet of sudden change, breakthroughs and upheaval. As the queer feminist astrologer Chani Nicholas puts it: Uranus is the goddess of I don't give a f*ck. While the piece is not about astrology, it takes what Uranus represents in astrology as a guideline for composition. Sudden changes during long transits, tilted axis, radical shifts: the astrological characteristics of the planet permeate the dances of Uranus. Not foreign to the Stockholm gay rave, it brings techno and the dance floor to the stage.

INFO

Spilleperiode: 15. marts 2019 - 23. marts 2019 - Urpremiere

Antal opførelser: 7

Målgruppe: Ung- og voksenforestilling

Varighed: 1 time og 20 minutter uden pause

Sæson: 2018-19

Type: Stationær produktion. Eget stationært arrangement