These Castaways arrive, they meet each other, they play, they search, they share with other castaways. They fish for messages, they collect bottles and moments. Each shipwreck is an opportunity to start again, to continue the journey. To live. These characters are carried along - by the wind, waves and impulses. This is their way of life, their daily routine, they have nothing to lose and everything to gain. A meeting with the audience, an exchange. A tribute to all travelers that once felt castaway. A nod to everyday shipwrecks with humor and delicacy. A street theatre and also a clown show, and thus a circus. Created to represent at night or dusk, in squares, parks and magical places.
