A contemporary, political tragicomedy in English, written by celebrated Hamburg-based Danish cult author Arne Nielsen in his playwriting debut.

Digging up the secrets of childhood requires a shot of vodka – or two – as hidden mysteries unfold in a house by a lake. VODKA TALKS tackles the unsettling political waves of power and change spreading through Europe in 2022, with humour, drama and suspense.

A play about love and family and what it means to survive the past.
