Human beings entertain themselves with nonsense and death things. There is no planet B, but what if planet A stands for Adaption - and when did nature actually ask to be saved by us and not from us?

Circling around the notion that the apocalypse is a boring dystopia - no grandiose battlefield but just a little less of everything fun in a slow collapse of biodiversity and capitalism - BRAVO TOGA is creating the performance Don't Fear Change. A choreographic and dramatic research about escaping one's domesticated lifestyle and re-connecting with one's inner wildlife.
